

In each example below, the table was shrunk to fit the content with the vertically centered button active:

The letters 'WWG' are rendered in a classic serif font with a wide, elegant design. They are contained within a thin black rectangular border.

This is Hoefler Text, and the spacing is good

The letters 'WWG' are rendered in a traditional serif font with a slightly more condensed and historical feel than Hoefler Text. They are contained within a thin black rectangular border.

This is Adobe Caslon Pro, and the spacing is not good.

The letters 'WWG' are rendered in a clean, modern serif font. They are contained within a thin black rectangular border.

This is Adobe Text Pro, and the spacing is not good.

The letters 'WWG' are rendered in a tall, narrow, modern sans-serif font. They are contained within a thin black rectangular border.

This is Gotham Narrow, and the spacing is not good.

The letters 'WWG' are rendered in a classic serif font, similar to Times New Roman. They are contained within a thin black rectangular border.

This is Times, and the spacing is good, although a bit lower than center.

The letters 'WWG' are rendered in a clean, modern sans-serif font. They are contained within a thin black rectangular border.

This is Calluna Sans, and the spacing is good.

The letters 'WWG' are rendered in a very bold, modern sans-serif font. They are contained within a thin black rectangular border.